GYEONGGI CULTURE

MUSEUM | GALLERY | ART CENTER | MEMORIAL HALL | LITERARY HALL

Nam June Paik Art Center

Welcome to Gyeonggi-do

Gyeonggi-do has the most number of museums in the country. Many cultural bases that formed the capital were situated in Gyeonggi-do and those who endeavored to preserve the culture still live in the region, creating diverse, viable culture even today.

GGC Museum·Exhibition Hall Guide provides easy-to-see information on not only cultural facilities operated by GyeongGi Cultural Foundation but also 300 other cultural and arts facilities affiliated with various cultural foundations, located across 15 different cities in Gyeonggi-do. 31 different si(city) and gun(county) of Gyeonggi-do have been divided into 12 areas on a map in which institutions belong to each area are explained in details.

We hope this guide will be useful for those visiting Gyeonggi-do who wish to learn more about the history, culture, and arts of our region.

GyeongGi Cultural Foundation

The “ggc” is an all-new online content platform that the GyeongGi Cultural Foundation(GGCF) is pleased to introduce. “ggc” stands for ‘GyeongGi Culture’ and it provides a broad range of arts and cultural contents including exhibitions, performances, education, community, travel, people, history, works of art, space, and research categories.

GyeongGi Provincial Museum

Gyeonggi-do's tradition, energy, and power Gyeonggi Provincial Museum opened in 1996 with the objective to prepare for the future by highlighting and passing on the history of Gyeonggi-do and the traditions of its culture. Thanks to the museum's dedication to the collection and preservation of artifacts, academic research, and exhibitions and education programs, it has steadily grown to become a favorite museum of local residents. Gyeonggi Provincial Museum is now a place where visitors can enjoy learning about Gyeonggi-do's history and culture through a variety of content. The museum also seeks to demonstrate the value and significance of Gyeonggi-do and Korea's culture in the world and to present a blueprint for future culture by discovering the historic identity of Gyeonggi-do.

Nam June Paik Art Center

In 2001, the artist Nam June Paik and Gyeonggi-do Provincial Government first discussed the establishment of the Nam June Paik Art Center. Later, the artist named the center himself as “The House Where the Spirit of Nam June Paik Lives On,” and it opened in October 2008. The Nam June Paik Art Center has attempted to develop creative and critical research on his ideas and artworks to fulfill his wish as a place where his legacy and values abide. The Nam June Paik Art Center houses 250 video installations as well as drawings by Paik and other contemporary artists. The Nam June Paik archives contain an additional 2,770 video works and other primary materials.

The Museum of Silhak

Gyeonggi-do is a place where Silhak was born and developed. It also has the largest collection of artifacts and records related to Silhak in Korea. Even today, a number of ruins where Silhak scholars lived and studied can be found in various parts of Gyeonggi-do including Hangang River areas. The Museum of Silhak is situated at the birthplace of Dasan Jeong Yakyong, the great scholar who integrated and completed the philosophy of Silhak. The Museum of Silhak collects, preserves, and studies tangible and intangible materials and information on Silhak and pursues academic exchanges and present exhibitions, serving as a multi-cultural venue that offers various educational programs, knowledge, and entertainment to Gyeonggi-do residents.

GyeongGi Sangsang Campus

Gyeonggi Sangsang Campus, remodeled from the buildings of the old College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Seoul National University, is a place where both lifestyle culture and the culture of youth grow together. After College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Seoul National University had moved out in 2003, the dense forest and rich environment have been making the Gyeonggi Sangsang Campus a resting place filled with culture and nature. Buildings were reborn into new ones like Saenghwal 1980 (formerly the horticulture department building), Cheongnyeon 1981 (formerly the agricultural chemistry department building), and Gongjak 1967 (formerly agricultural workshops).

Museum of Silhak : Gyeonggi-do is a place from which silhak originated and home to many historical sites for silhak. One of the most well-known silhak sites is Dasan Heritage Site in Namyangju. The Museum of Silhak, which is situated right there, is Korea's only museum entirely dedicated to silhak.

Praum Musical Instrument Museum : Praum Musical Instrument Museum offers displays and educational programs themed after Western musical instruments such as string, wind, percussion, and keyboard instruments to share feelings and emotions with many people through music. Furthermore, the museum hosts regular classical music concerts, opera gala concerts, and other performances to serve as a cultural space which anyone can enjoy.

Yeosu World Ceramic Livingware Gallery (Bandal Art Museum) : As a ceramic museum which has hosted the Korean International Ceramic Biennale for the last 15 years, Yeosu World Ceramic Livingware Gallery provides exhibitions in four halls, showing the artistic value and infinite potential of ceramic livingware.

Yeosu Museum : The museum changed its name in 2010 from Yeosu Folk History Museum to Yeosu Museum. Along with Yeoma-kwan Building (new building) in July 2016, the museum brings together and displays Yeosu's artifacts, which used to be scattered nationwide, and various other artifacts that it has collected thus far.

Mimesis Art Museum : The museum's all white exhibition hall, consisting of various curves, removes artificial lighting if possible and uses natural lighting as much as possible to produce a subtle and calm atmosphere and allow visitors to see changing lights over time. Mimesis Art Museum is becoming a place that provides joy beyond exhibitions with the architecture itself, not as a commercial exhibition place that attracts visitors.
